

Dr. S. Shanthi completed her Doctorate in Information Communication Engineering and Master of Engineering from Anna University, Chennai, Tamilnadu, India. She has 14 years of teaching and research experience. Presently she is working as Professor in the Department of Computer Science and Engineering, SNS College of Technology, Coimbatore. Her areas of interest include Data Science, Machine Learning, Data Mining, Data Structures and Analysis of Algorithms, IoT and Network Security. She has published more than 50 research papers in international journals and National and International Conferences. She has given many invited talks across the institutions in national and international level. In her career she bagged lot of awards including IEEE best research paper award, best performer award, best teacher award etc. Received research funds from CSI, DRDO, IEEE etc. worth 15 lakhs for the research projects. She is a life time member in reputed professional societies like IEEE, ISTE, IAENG, CSI etc.